CULTURE OF PEONIES

The best time of all the year to plant Peonies is from about Sept. 1 until the ground freezes. October dug roots will have larger "eyes" than those dug Sept. 1, but they will not produce any better results. When you receive your shipment of roots soak them in water for several hours before planting. Prepare the ground by deep digging or plowing, working in some raw ground bone as a permanent food for the roots to feed on. Top dressings of wood ashes from year to year are very beneficial. Plant so the eyes are only about two inches below the level of the ground and plant where drainage is good, as no water should stand where Peonies are to grow. Keep ground free from weeds.

It takes about three years for a Peony to become established so it will bear its finest flowers. Planted three feet apart each way the roots can remain undisturbed for a period of 5 to 10 years and each year develop into a finer plant. After the ground freezes cover a new planting with some straw, leaves or other litter to prevent the roots being heaved out of the ground by the action of the frost. In the spring remove covering and cultivate frequently from April to September to insure the finest flowers from year to year.

THE CUT FLOWERS

When cutting Peonies always leave two or more leaves on the stalk from which you cut, and it is better not to cut all the flowers from any plant.

Leave some leaves on each stalk and some flowers on each plant. It pays.

JAPANESE IRIS

July Flowering

For best results plant on a slope or other well drained situation. While they are forming buds in June, water or liquid cow manure is very beneficial. Well rotted manure or humus keeps them thriving. They do not seem to like lime or bone meal.

Aifukurin—Sgl. White ground suffused and heavily edged violet, petaloid stigmas edged petunia violet. A very beautiful variety.

Airship—Sgl. Sky blue; very large petals.

Akafukurin—Sgl. White splashed and edged carmine. Betty F. Holmes—Dbl. Pure white.

Catherine Parry—Dbl. Blue overlaid rosy-red, high tufts in center almost triple.

Eleanor Parry—Dbl. Claret red, flamed white and blue. Compact medium size flower. Good.

Hotari—Sgl. Beautiful "pinkish" cast.

Jeannette Parry—Sgl. White suffused with lines of bluish violet, petaloid stigmas amethyst violet.

Kongo San—Dbl. Dark blue.

Malmaison—Dbl. Very late. Large heavy blooms of bluish violet on a cream base suffused reddish pink.

Margaret S. Hendrickson—Triple. Soft bluish violet, large wavy petals. White center with cast of blue radiating therefrom.

Marjorie Parry—Dbl. Delicate light mauve, tufted center. Extra fine.

Nishiki Yama—Dbl. Rosy-red suffused white in center.

Osamaku-miyo—Dbl. Ivory white veined blue.

Shiranami—Dbl. Large white with ruffled petals.

Talmanya—Dbl. Pale king's blue.

Universe—Dbl. Soft blue.

Wakamusha—Dbl. Ivory white veined plum, compact flower.

Yonomo—Sgl. "Mother of Pearl" color.

Yurushi-no-iro—Dbl. Mahogany red.

GERMANICA IRIS

We have a selected collection of some of the best varieties.

Each 25c and up; a collection of 12 for $3.00

GLADIOLUS BULBS

If there is a universal flower I believe it is the Gladiolus, for they can be and are grown with satisfaction East, West, North and South. Given a fairly good soil and a little care they will return full measure. Plant a few anyway, and if you have the room, provide for several plantings at intervals of 2 or 3 weeks to give a long season of bloom. They come into flower 12 to 15 weeks from time of planting.

Our prices are for No. 1 or first size bulbs. They have been treated for thrips. One hundred outstanding varieties.
